WISER'S CANADA WHISKEY

Manufactured and bottled in Bond under Excise supervision by . . .

J. P. WISER & SONS, Limited, - PRESCOTT, ONT.

AGE, STRENGTH AND QUALITY GUARANTEED BY GOVERNMENT.

SEE GOVERNMENT LABEL ON EVERY CORK.

Where it is Manufactured

PRESCOTT, ONTARIO, CANADA, where "WISER'S CANADA WHISKEY" is made, is situated on the north bank of the St. Lawrence River, at the foot of the Thousand Islands, opposite the City of Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The River St. Lawrence is not only noted for its beauty, but also for the purity of its water and is one of the very best for the manufacture of whiskey.

The purity of this water, together with the great facilities for shipping, led to the establishment, in 1850, of this distillery.

The whiskey made here soon became famed for its purity and excellence, which has never been surpassed, necessitating constantly increased manufacturing facilities, until the business, under the management of J. P. Wiser, has grown to its present vast proportions and obtained the enviable reputation it now enjoys.

With each succeeding year came large numbers of travellers to Canada who were not slow to realize and appreciate the superior qualities of "WISER'S CANADA WHISKEY."

This fact created such a demand for it, that now it is to be found in all the principal cities of the country, and holds its high place in the estimation of the public because of the great care and attention given to every detail of manufacture.

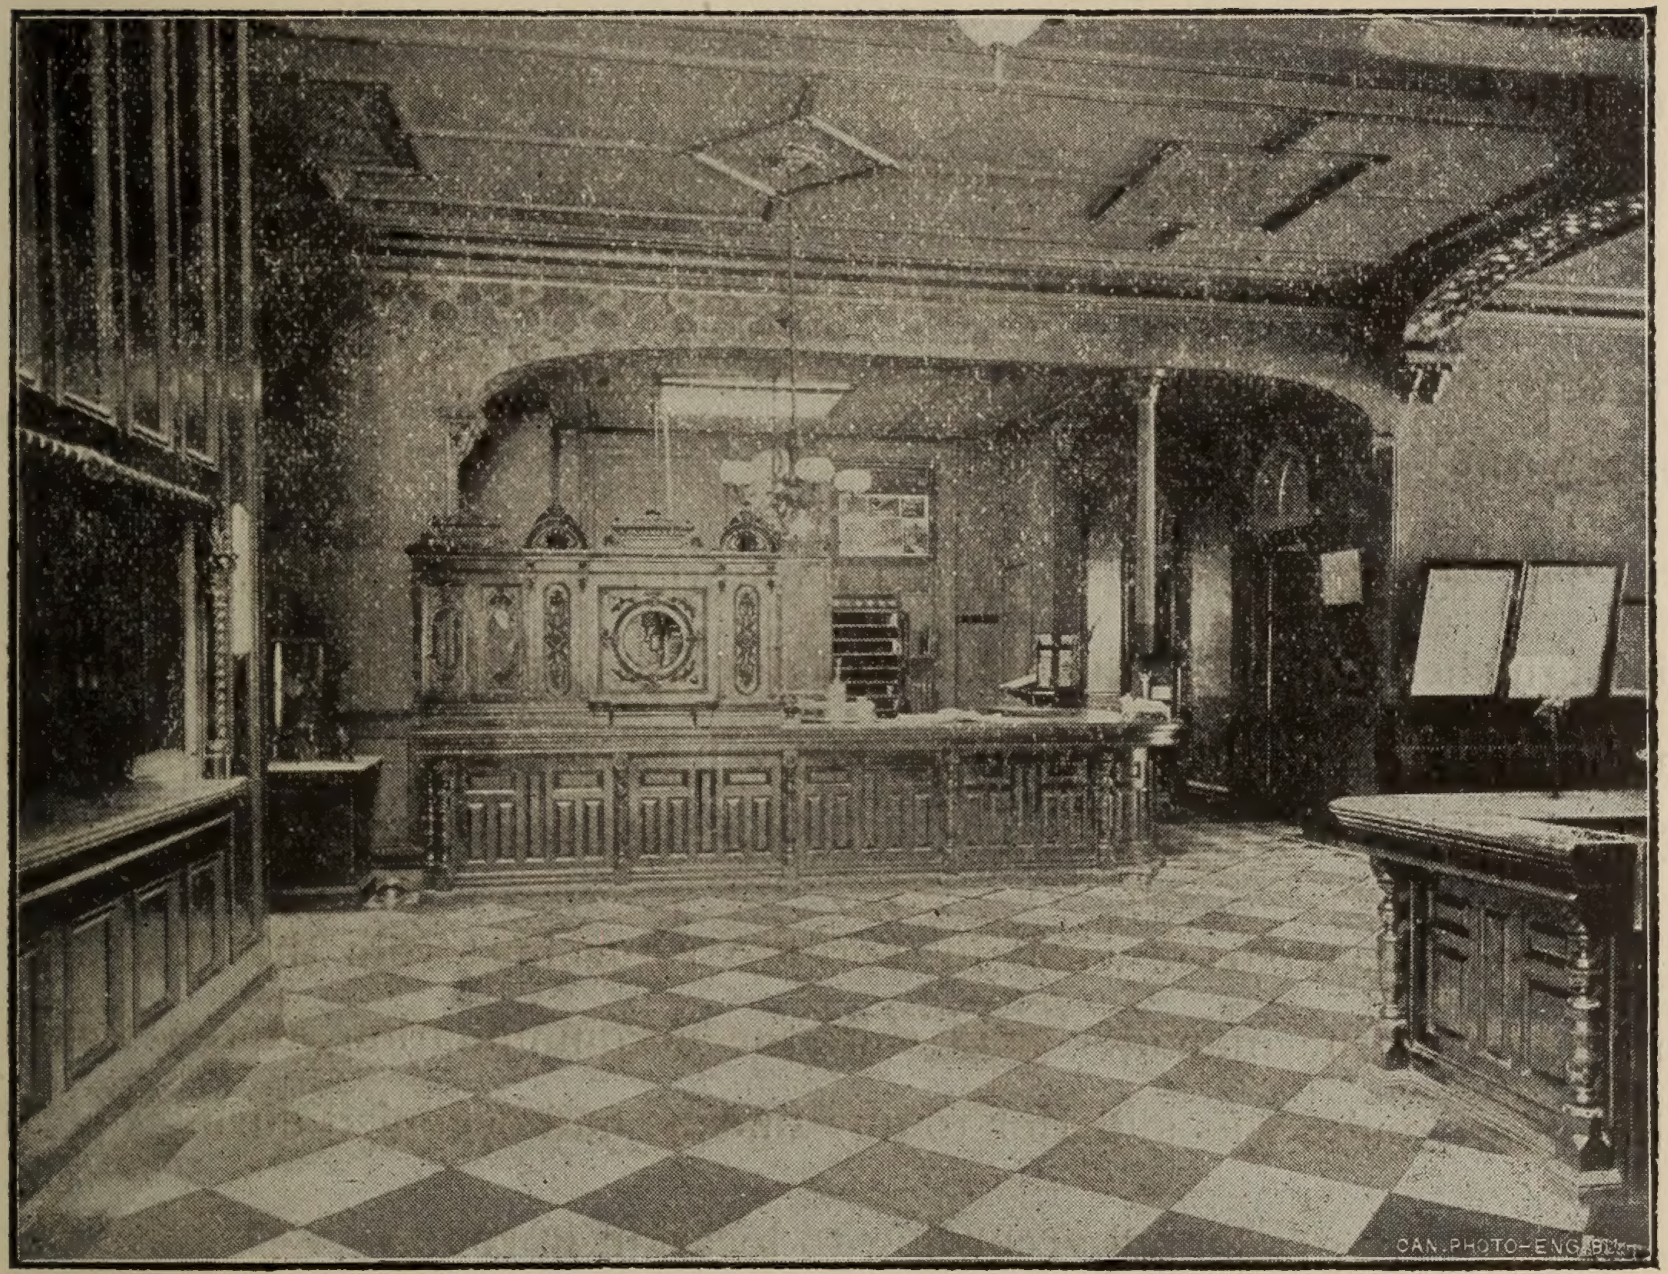

THE ROSSIN HOUSE, TORONTO.

The Rossin House

THE ROSSIN HOUSE is the largest, best furnished, best ventiliated, and best managed Hotel in the Province of Ontario ; also the most central first-class Hotel in Toronto, being situated on the corner of King and York Streets, only two blocks from Union Depot. While the Rossin House enjoys all the conveniences of its near proximity to a railway centre, its patrons find it sufficiently removed from the noise, smoke, dust, etc., due to the heavy traffic along the tracks on the lake front in the vicinity of the Union Depot.

Besides its superior location, it is the only Hotel in Toronto complete in all its appointments, with magnificent parlors and bedrooms, detached or en-suite, lofty ceilings and imposing corridors.

Owing to its increased patronage, the Hotel Company have enlarged the Rossin by an addition of seventy-five elegant furnished rooms en suite, with baths.

The Rossin House enjoys the reputation of being patronized bv more distinguished English, American and foreign visitors than any other hotel in the city; we might mention among others the Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Leopold, also two ex-Presidents of the United States.

Prince Bonaparte, when in Toronto returning from the World's Fair, in a letter to the manager said that the accommodation at the Rossin for himself and suite was superior to any that he had occupied during his trip.

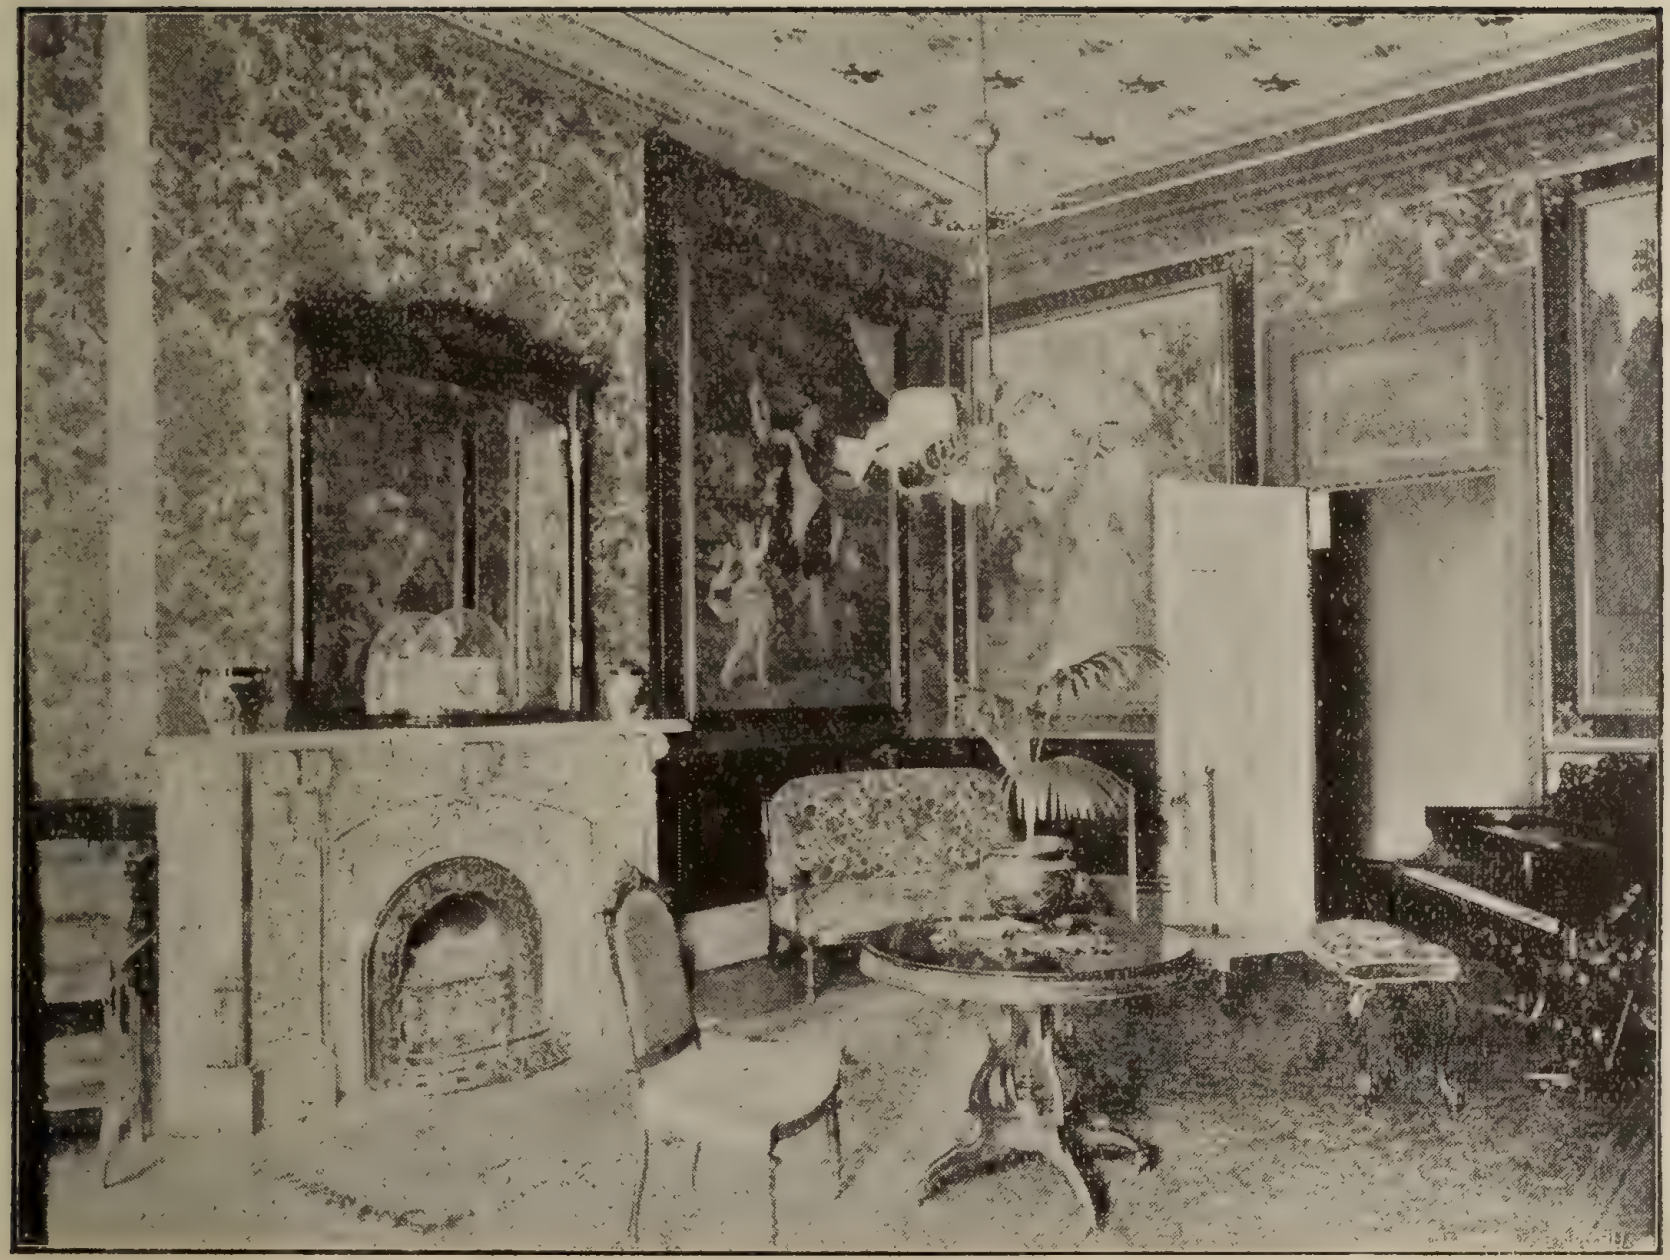

Prices are graduated according to location of rooms.

Toronto....

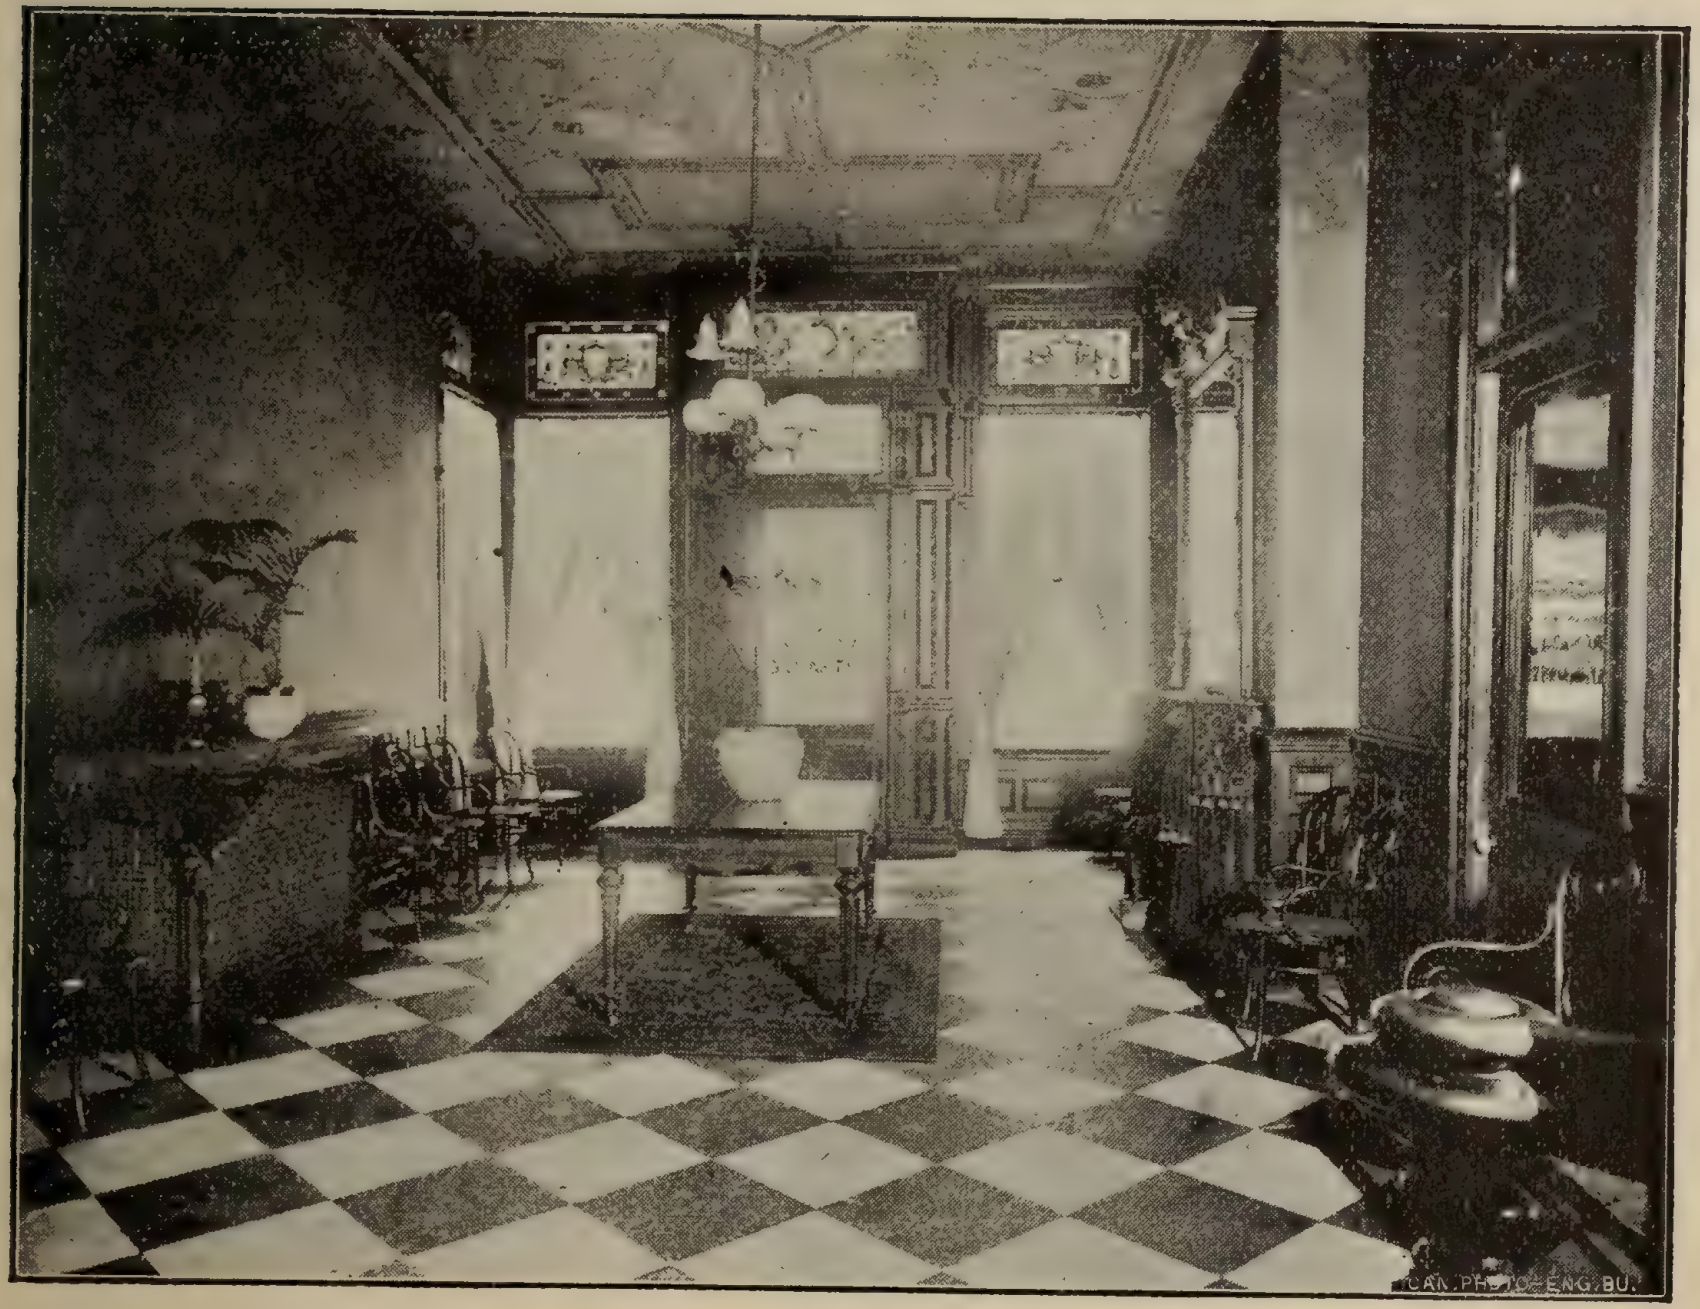

AS these pictured pages will no doubt fall into the hands of some who are far away from the city which they illustrate, and perhaps far from Canada, it may be well to say that Toronto, the capital of the province, and the second largest city in the Dominion of Canada, is situated on a large and finely sheltered bay on the north shore of Lake Ontario, between the rivers Don and Humber. Toronto is 39 miles northeast of Hamilton, and 310 miles W.S.W. of Montreal. The Bay, on the shore of which Toronto has been built, is formed by an island about six miles long, which encloses a basin 3.44 miles. This forms a safe and commodious harbor. The site slopes gradually from the margin of the bay for a distance of three miles to a terrace or ancient lake margin immediately outside the northern limits of the city. At this point an altitude of 220 feet above the lake level is reached. Transversely, i.e., from east to west, it is eight miles long and is generally level, with slight depressions at points where minor water courses formerly existed. The city's water front on Toronto, Ashbridge's and Humber Bays covers a distance of eight miles. The island is about two miles from the city front, and is a charming feature of summer life in Toronto.

The area within the limits of the city is twenty-four square miles. There are 242 miles of streets. Street-car lines, operated by electricity, running daily, extend in all directions, and there is probably no city in the world where it is easier to get about from one part of the city to another. The streets cross each other at right angles. Yonge street, the main thoroughfare, running north and south, was constructed as a great military road in 1796, and extends under the same name for upwards of thirty miles to Lake Simcoe. It constitutes the dividing line of the city, the streets being reckoned east and west, according to their relation to it.

GREAT GORGE ROUTE

WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED

The building of the Niagara Gorge Railroad, which had been a dream for years, but an undertaking looked upon as impossible, now stands as a monument to the ingenuity and marvelous engineering skill of the end of the nineteenth century. It is an electric railroad running at the foot of the frowning walls which line the magnificent Gorge from the Falls to Lewiston, penetrating its deepest mysteries, and exposing to view for the first time in the history of man many weird and strange rock formations, the work of pent-up forces of nature—one of the grandest attractions at Niagara Falls.

"See Rome and die," suggests more than simply looking at the Eternal City.

Anthony Trollope said: "I am inclined to give the palm to the Falls of Niagara. There is the fall of water alone; but that fall is more graceful than Giotte's Tower, more noble than Apollo."

The period since the visit of that illustrious English author to the shores of Niagara, in 1868, has been marked by remarkable events, prominent among which was the building of the "Great Gorge Route, a feat in engineering which has astonished experts the world over.

Eighty thousand candle power, in reflected arc lights, and a powerful searchlight, have been placed at the Whirlpool Rapids, for evening entertainment. By use of clever mechanism, continually changing colors are thrown on the foaming, seething waters. The effect baffles all description—it is Magnificent, Marvelous Superb!
